

The “Continuing Appropriations Resolution, 2015,” (Public Law 113-164) that President Obama signed on September 19, 2014, extends a current general provision regarding housing program eligibility through December 11, 2014, barring congressional action. This means that if a community is currently eligible for USDA single-family housing loans, it will remain eligible at least through December 11, unless Congress changes that date.